WILL AUCTION A SOCIAL POSITION FOR ONE DAY

By United Press.

NEW YORK, June 3.—"Here you are! Only $5 a day in the most exclusive home in Newport! Buy a chance, and if you win you'll be entertained by one of Newport's most charming hostesses!"

This is the cry that resounded today when the Million Dollar Allied Bazar began in Grand Central Palace.

Among the many things to be raffled off, from neckties autographed by poets to high power touring cars, is a free trip to Newport and a day's entertainment in some villa where hitherto only those whose names are in the social register have been permitted to enter.

Just who the hostess is to be, whether it is Mrs. Vincent Astor, Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont or somebody else, has not been disclosed.

Not even the possibility, immediately suggested, that some I. W. W. person might get the price and buy a chance and win the day at Newport has deterred the Newport hostesses.

Another Alluring Bargain.

Another alluring chance that will be sold is "The day of ladylike thrills." Only men may compete for this, and the lucky winner is to be handed the following feminine thrills:

A morning trip with Katherine Stinson in her airship, a regular scorcher of a ride with the most daring woman automobilist the committee can find, an afternoon spin with Mrs. J. Stuart Blackton in her motor boat, several hours of posing for the movies as the hero in the most strenuous play that can be found and dancing in the evening with Florence Walton as partner.

France's $200,000 exhibit is made up largely of weapons and war paraphernalia and is in charge of the Marquis de Polignac, special representative of the French government for the bazar.

Among the many interesting features of the exhibit are two aeroplanes and a hydroaeroplane, captured from the Germans, a big collection of parts from a Zeppelin brought down by French guns and 5,000 steel arrows which Teutonic aviators rained down on ground occupied by French troops.

French Show a Mortar.

There is a big mortar of the type used by the French troops, several captured German guns and hundreds scriptions for the next 3 weeks. This is an opportunity to make good money quick. If you want to work, apply to Mr. Warren at Missourian office, in Virginia Bldg., at 4 p. m. Monday. 237.

Teachers Wanted: Rural schools from $50 to $75, High School Principals, $100 to $135; Superintendents up to $1,800. These calls are actually in our office. Enroll now. Missouri Teachers Agency. Kirksville, Mo. C. 225-1f.

FOR SALE: Modern, 8-room frame residence on College Avenue; sleeping porch; granitoid basement; gas connections; lot 50x275 running through Willis Avenue; both streets paved and with granitoid sidewalks; or will sell lot on Willis Avenue separately. See P. S. Quinn or telephone 876. Q-237-1f.

of articles of every-day use made by French soldiers in the trenches.

The two captured German aeroplanes are of the Albatross make. One of them was shot down "somewhere in France" by French anti-aircraft guns and the other fell inside the Allied lines after being subjected to a hot fire from French aviators. The hydroaeroplane was shot down at sea by gunners on board allied warships off the Belgian coast. There are 100 tons of the exhibit in all.

The bazar, which is to cost approximately $1,000,000, will last until June 14. The proceeds, expected to total near the million mark, will go for relief work in Allied countries.

Affair Is National.

The affair is national in scope and will be directed by representatives of every patriotic allied order in the United States and Canada.

Members of the committee directing the bazar are Mr. Joseph H. Choate, Mr. Myron T. Herrick, Mr. William F. McCombs, Mrs. William Alexander, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, Mr. Frederick H. Allen, Mr. Gifford Pinchot, Mrs. Barrett Wendell, Mrs. Fiske Warren, Mrs. Schuyler van Rensselaer, Mr. August Belmont, Mr. Howard Elliot, Mr. Frank H. Mason, Mr. A. Barton Hepburn, Mr. Horace E. Major-General Wood Heads Off Rumors About Training Camp.

By United Press.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., June 3.—Major General Leonard Wood, commanding the Department of the East, wants it made clear that the training camp which opened here today is for every American citizen who wishes to be of aid to his country in case of war.

The general called reporters to his headquarters to set at rest rumors that there was, or would be, any social distinction whatever shown in recruiting men for the camp.

"Preparedness," said General Wood, "has caught on. So far more than 2,000 business men and others have signed for the Plattsburg camp this year. Among these there are many college students. Princeton is leading with the largest enrollment of the colleges. We expect to have between 20,000 and 25,000 men here this year."

"The summer instruction camp idea is favored by many persons who cannot join us. A woman wrote me recently offering to pay the expenses of eight young men at Plattsburg."

"I have received many letters asking for an opportunity to help in this way. As two weeks is not long enough to acquaint a man with the necessary training for service, I wish to urge employers to extend vacations of their employees who are at the camp to a month. This seems the least time in which properly to instruct a man in the duties and requirements of a soldier."

"The governors of Virginia and South Carolina appointed committees in the cities and towns of their states to organize groups for the camp, and their representation in large."
